

W e shall require a substantially new manner of thinking if mankind is to survive.

--Albert Einstein

The Department of Defense Breast Cancer Research Program offers support for establishing clinical breast cancer research careers through the

Physician-Scientist Training Awards

Goal: To prepare physicians for careers in clinical breast cancer research through a mentored training experience.

Eligibility: Physicians in the last year of oncology graduate medical education or within the first 3 years as a junior faculty member.

Award Features: $700,000 maximum award amount; 5-year commitment to clinical breast cancer research; salary support; medical school education loan debt reduction; protected time for research.

May 14, 2003, submission deadline.

For more information, visit <http://cdmrp.army.mil> or call 301-619-7079.

Complete requirements for award proposals are available in the February 26, 2003, Breast Cancer Research Program Announcement.